Oil PSUs' $300-million dividend stuck in Indian bank in Russia

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU New Delhi, May 25

HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS of dollars in dividends payable to public sector Indian oil companies from their investments in Russian projects are being deposited into accounts in an Indian bank in Russia, even as the companies deliberate over ways to repatriate the stuck dividends to India, Oil India's (OIL) Chairman and Managing Director Ranjit Rath said on Thursday.

Rath said the money was parked in bank accounts in Russia and the companies are earning interest on it, but getting it to India remains a challenge. He declined to elaborate on the options that Indian companies are considering. The Indian bank in Russia where the money is parked is understood to be the Commercial Indo Bank (CIBL). CIBL used to be a joint-venture of SBI and Canara Bank, but the latter recently sold its stake in the venture to SBI.

Dividends payable to Indian oil companies — ONGC Videsh (OVL), OIL, Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) and Bharat PetroResources (BPRL) — are stuck due to payment channelrelated issues in the aftermath of Russia's February 2022 invasion of Ukraine. OVL, the overseas investment arm of Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC), holds 20% stake in the Sakhalin-1 and 26% in Vankor. The consortium of IOC, OIL, and BPCL's upstream arm BPRL has 23.9% share in Vankor and 29.9% in Taas-Yuryakh.

Around $300 million in dividends belonging to the consortium of IOC,OIL, and BPRL are parked in CIBL, said a senior official with one of the companies.

Tiago electric outpaces petrol variant in sales

Demand for electric cars across segments continues to outpace supply as manufacturers face an uphill task of ramping up output, which is partially to be blamed on the shortages in the supply chain.

"Supply is slightly behind demand. In the last 3-4 weeks, we have seen a steep jump in demand for the Tiago. But I have to take a long-term view because there are future products that are coming. We take a long-term view of sweating the assets," Chandra added.

Electric versions of the Altroz, Punch and Harrier are expected in the coming period alongside born-electric models spawning from the concepts Curvy and Avinya, which was showcased by the company earlier. The electric version of the Sierra is also part of the launches. Tata Motors believes that there is a scope for reduction in cost of EVs going forward given that battery prices have started to decline. Prices of semiconductors have also stabilised after open market sale of the item has come down and supplies are streamlined. The Tata group has now set up a company that will manufacture battery cells for EVs. This would further help in cutting down costs of batteries, which make up 40-50% of the price of the EV.

Govt cushions angel tax blow

In addition to these, specified entities, which are a resident of the 21 countries, include Sebi-registered category 1 foreign portfolio investors, endowment funds associated with a university, hospitals or charities; pension funds created or established under the law of the foreign country or specified territory have now been exempted.

Further, broad-based pooled investment vehicle or fund, where the number of investors is over 50 and the fund is not a hedge fund or use diverse or complex trading strategies, will also not attract the tax.

As per the angel tax, introduced in 2012, if an Indian unlisted company issues shares at a price exceeding its FMV, it will be liable to be taxed at a rate of 30%. The Budget 2023-24 amended Section 56(2) VII B of the I-T Act to bring non-residents within the ambit of the impost.

Amit Agarwal, partner, Nangia & Co, said that although the White Label countries are one of the major sources of Fundbased FDI inflows into India, the latest notification has not exempted popular intermediate jurisdictions like Mauritius and Singapore and the UAE, which have been bases for FPIs and other fund-based investors.

According to Saurray Sood, practice leader-International Tax and Transfer Pricing, SW India, the omission of these countries from the exemption list seems deliberate. He noted that, investments do come from these jurisdictions through special purpose vehicles (SPVs), which then invest indirectly into Indian startups. Punit Shah, partner, Dhruva

Advisors, said it needs to be known if the tag of "broadbased funds", defined as having more than 50 investors, be extended to pooling vehicles making investments in India through specific SPVs located in non-specified jurisdictions. Sood also said that the condition of 50 investors, is "somewhat misaligned with Section 9A provisions" which provide safe harbour benefits with 25 investors. "While this notification has been a welcome relief to investors, it will have to be seen whether it meets the end fairly or is a goal half achieved," he said. In a separate notification, the CBDT said the angel tax provisions would not apply to consideration received by a company for issue of shares exceeding the face value if it is from a startup registered with the department for promotion of industry and internal trade. The notification is effective April 1, 2023.

Businesses incorporated before April 2016 can apply for exemptions from this section and Sebi-registered alternative investment funds (AIFs) are also exempt. About 80,000 startups registered with the DPIIT are exempt too.

Concerned over delay in Voda Idea fundraise: Vaishnaw

It added that the company is still in need of additional liquidity and plans to raise funds going forward.

The government is currently the single largest stakeholder with a 33.4% stake in Vodafone Idea and Aditya Birla group holds 18%. The delay in raising funds is also delaying the launch of 5G services by the company while its competitors, Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel, are aggressively rolling out their 5G network. Both the telecom operators have deployed over 200,000 5G tower sites and even started witnessing unique subscribers on the 5G network.

Speaking on other issues, Vaishnaw said that he does not see the need for another round of spectrum auctions in the near term. However, he said that the government is looking to resolve issues around satellite spectrum allocation – whether it should be done via auctions or administratively.

"We will soon resolve the issue regarding satellite spectrum allocation. I believe this should happen within this year," the minister said.

On whether the government plans to regulate artificial intelligence (AI), Vaishnaw said, "AI is something that will be regulated in a global manner. There are serious discussions going on alll over the world. We are also discussing it with the stakeholders, including the industry, academia and everybody on what needs to be done to create a safe internet, which will help us make sure that our children are safe." When asked about the delay in forming self-regulatory organisations by online gaming companies, he said the government is yet to receive any representation from the industry. On the government's role in fact-checking news relating to itself, the minister said, "It does not affect free speech. The regulation is clearly aimed at making sure that correct facts are placed. If it is a government-related matter, only the government can tell whether it is true or not. There can not be two views on a fact."
